Mission

To promote, protect, and unify the equestrian community of Boulder County through education, recreation, and legislation.

History

Since its establishment in 1971, the Boulder County Horse Association (BCHA) has monitored and advised public land management agencies on issues affecting horse keeping, equestrian access, trails and horse ownership throughout Boulder County. We support the acquisition of open space and parks, as well as an interconnected system of multi-use trails. BCHA also conducts trail building and trail maintenance projects in coordination with public land management agencies.

In 1986, BCHA adopted and built the Doudy Draw Trail near Eldorado Springs.

What We Do

Education

BCHA serves as a valuable resource for horse-related expertise in Boulder County. We sponsor educational clinics, seminars, events, and informative publications. When issues arise concerning legislation or trail news, BCHA lets the community know through social media, including our website BoulderHorse.org and our blog BCHAnicker.org.

Recreation

BCHA presents several annual events such as the BCHA Horse Fair, the Public Lands Appreciation Day (PLAD), and the BCHA Fun Show. We also offer both informal and organized trail rides—a fun way to learn about local ecology, history, and land stewardship!

BCHA is a proud member of the Boulder Area Trails Coalition and the Colorado Horse Council.

Legislation

BCHA works with Boulder County to formulate horse-keeping guidelines within the Land Use Code. We are especially proud of our accomplishments in this area. BCHA has also participated in several National Trails Day projects, and our members are active in Municipal, County, State and Federal trail-policy planning forums.
